INCLASS

Fluid by nature, versatile and iconic by design.

Designed by Jonathan Prestwich, the ONDES collection emerges from observing the undulating movement present in nature or in the gentle sway of a fabric.

From this formal inspiration, the collection is articulated around a system of sculptural bases that enables the creation of an almost endless variety of transversal tables, adapted to different environments, functions and contexts.

The ONDES system makes it possible to create tables in four different heights and unlimited sizes, offering great freedom of configuration. Made from 100% recyclable polyethylene, the bases stand out for their strength, durability and minimal maintenance. Suitable for indoor and outdoor use, they are available in a wide and carefully curated selection of colours.

The system is completed by an extensive variety of tops, available in multiple formats, colours and materials, making it possible to create tables tailored to the needs of each project, space and architecture.
